DETAILED ACTION

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 112

1. The following is a quotation of the second paragraph of 35 U.S.C. 112:
The specification shall conclude with one or more claims particularly pointing out and distinctly claiming the subject matter which the applicant regards as his invention.
2. Claims 1-6 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 112, second paragraph, as being indefinite for failing to particularly point out and distinctly claim the subject matter which applicant regards as the invention. In Claim 1, line 3, the phrase “the drawer” does not have a proper antecedent basis. Claim 1, line 4, the term “optionally” is viewed as being indefinite since this “alternative format” is unclear if the limitation following the term i.e., “an interposed center rail”, constitutes a positive recitation of a claimed limitation. For examination purposes, the examiner has taken the position that a “center rail” is positively being claimed. Claim 1, lines 6-7, the phrase “the two aforementioned outer rails” does not have a proper antecedent basis. Claim 1, lines 11-12, the phrase “the corresponding rail” is not clear as to which rail should be linked to the “catch” as presently worded, thereby resulting in a limitation that does not clearly set forth the metes and bounds of the patent protection desired. Claim 1, line 18, the phrase “the spring” does not have a proper antecedent basis. Claim 1, line 22, the phrase “on the rail” is not clear as to which rail [which rail ?] should be linked to the “spring assembly” as presently worded, thereby resulting in a limitation that does not clearly set forth the metes and bounds of the patent protection desired. In Claim 3, line 3, the phrase “rail-like” renders the claim indefinite because the claim may include elements not actually disclosed, thereby rendering the scope of the claim unascertainable. In Claim 5, lines 1-2, the phrase “according to claim 1 for a full extension, with a center rail disposed..." is unclear and confusing as presently recited. Consequently, the remaining claims are rejected because they are dependent upon an indefinite claim.

Allowable Subject Matter

3. Pending further review and consideration upon applicant's response to this office action, Claims 1-6 would be allowable if rewritten or amended to overcome the rejection(s) under 35 U.S.C. 112, 2nd paragraph, set forth in this Office action.

Conclusion

4. The prior art made of record and not relied upon is considered pertinent to applicant's disclosure. Kim et al., German publication 19835466, Lautenschlager and Scheible describe self-closing slide assemblies.
